

Judith Clurman Bio Pages

Last Updated February 1, 2019

Contents

Long Bio
Short Bio
1 Paragraph Bio

JUDITH CLURMAN

LONG BIO

Emmy and Grammy nominated conductor, educator, and choral specialist Judith Clurman is driven by a passion for vocal music in all its forms and styles. Equally at home with repertoire from the classical canon to the American Songbook, musical theater and contemporary compositions, Ms. Clurman's performances are marked by dynamic interpretations and effortless panache.

As music director for Essential Voices USA (EVUSA) Ms. Clurman collaborates with the New York Pops on their Carnegie Hall subscription series. With the Symphony Singers, she has worked with the New York Philharmonic at Lincoln Center. She served as founding conductor of the New York Concert Singers and Project Youth Chorus, music director of Prism Concerts, the 92nd Street Y's "Music of the Spirit" program, and as artistic director of the Lincoln Center Tree Lighting.

Ms. Clurman has worked with many of the world's finest musical organizations including the Boston Symphony Orchestra, New York Philharmonic, Orchestra of St. Luke's, New York City Ballet, Mostly Mozart Festival, Jazz at Lincoln Center, and Lincoln Center's Great Performers and American Songbook Series. She has conducted the Österreich Festival Orchestra and Chorus at the Mozarteum Grosser Saal, in Salzburg, Austria.

A favorite among composers and a tireless advocate for new music. Ms. Clurman has commissioned, premiered and recorded works by over sixty American composers including Milton Babbitt, William Bolcom, Jason Robert Brown, Marvin Hamlisch, Jennifer Higdon, and Nico Muhly. She has been involved with highly praised US Premieres of the music of Philip Glass, Rossini, and Wagner, the World Premiere of a newly-discovered Mozart text for Lincoln Center's Mozart Bicentennial, and a Leonard Bernstein arrangement of George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, performed at Harvard.

Ms. Clurman is familiar to television audiences for her national broadcasts on NBC and PBS with "Music of the Spirit"; as music director of the Singing Tree Float in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade (2017-); as conductor of the nationally televised July 4th Macy's Fireworks Spectacular in 2015; and, perhaps most notably for younger listeners, as associate music director of Sesame Street (Season 39). Her work with the Muppets earned her a 2009 Emmy Nomination for Outstanding Achievement in Music Direction and Composition. Additionally, three of the songs that she arranged also garnered Emmy nominations for the show.

In the days following September 11th, and moved by leading a chorus in "God Bless America" in a New York City firehouse, Ms. Clurman conceived of the ambitious "Sing Out Mr. President." With support from the Library of Congress, Ms. Clurman commissioned and premiered 16 American composers to set the words of 16 presidents to music. The piece was performed at the Library of Congress in 2003, was heard on NPR on President's Day in 2011, was featured in the 2013 inauguration and has been a favorite of school choruses and presidential inaugurations.

The Recording Academy recognized Ms. Clurman's achievements with a Grammy nomination for her ensemble's participation in Tania Leon's In Motion CD. Her two latest recordings, Season of Light: Songs of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Chanukah, New Year and Holiday Harmonies: Songs of Christmas, with soloists Jamie Barton and Maureen McKay, celebrate the most wonderful time of the year. She has recorded for New World, Sono Luminus, EVUSA Recordings, Albany, and Delos.

A member of the faculty of the Manhattan School of Music, Ms. Clurman is in demand as an educator and mentor across numerous musical fields. Her current and former students work in major opera companies, musical theater productions, and conducting positions worldwide. She served as Director of Choral Activities at The Juilliard School from 1989-2007; as Co-Director for Harvard University's "Leonard Bernstein: Boston to Broadway" Festival; and as a faculty member and vocal specialist for the National Endowment for the Arts/Columbia University Institute of Classical Music. Ms. Clurman has been a Visiting Artist/Conductor at Cambridge University, Berlin Universitat Potsdam, the Zimriya in Israel, the Janacek Academy in the Czech Republic, Curtis Institute of Music, and the Lewis Center for the Arts at Princeton University.

She is a member of ASCAP, ASCAP's Special Classification Committee, and the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Her music and arrangements are published by G. Schirmer, Hal Leonard, and Schott and have been performed by the New York Pops, the Boston Pops, and Houston, National, and Toronto Symphonies.

February 1, 2019

JUDITH CLURMAN

SHORT BIO

Emmy and Grammy nominated conductor, educator, and choral specialist Judith Clurman's performances are marked by dynamic interpretations and effortless panache.

As music director for Essential Voices USA (EVUSA) Ms. Clurman collaborates with the New York Pops at Carnegie Hall. Ms. Clurman has commissioned, premiered and recorded works by over sixty American composers including Milton Babbitt, William Bolcom, Jason Robert Brown, Marvin Hamlisch, Jennifer Higdon, and Nico Muhly.

She has performed with the Boston Symphony Orchestra, NY Philharmonic, Orchestra of St. Luke's, NYC Ballet, Mostly Mozart Festival, and Lincoln Center. She has conducted the Österreich Festival Orchestra and Chorus in Salzburg, Austria. She has been involved with highly praised US Premieres of the music of Philip Glass, Rossini, and Wagner, the World Premiere of a newly-discovered Mozart text for Lincoln Center's Mozart Bicentennial, and a Leonard Bernstein arrangement of George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue, performed at Harvard.

Ms. Clurman is familiar to television audiences for her national broadcasts on NBC and PBS with "Music of the Spirit"; as music director of the Singing Tree Float in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade (2017-); as conductor of the nationally televised July 4th Macy's Fireworks Spectacular in 2015; and, perhaps most notably for younger listeners, as associate music director of Sesame Street (Season 39), which earned her a 2009 Emmy Nomination for Outstanding Achievement in Music Direction and Composition. Additionally, three of the songs that she arranged also garnered Emmy nominations.

She commissioned "Sing Out Mr. President," which premiered at the Library of Congress, was performed on National Public Radio, during the 2013 inauguration activities, and is a favorite of high school choruses nationwide.

Tania Leon's recording In Motion, featuring Ms. Clurman and Son Sonora Voices received a Grammy nomination. Her two latest recordings, Season of Light: Songs of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Chanukah, New Year and Holiday Harmonies: Songs of Christmas, celebrate the most wonderful time of the year. She has recorded for New World, Sono Luminus, EVUSA Recordings, Albany, and Delos.

Ms. Clurman is a member of the faculty of the Manhattan School of Music and has taught the Juilliard School, Harvard University, NEA/Columbia University Institute of Classical Music, Cambridge University, Curtis Institute of Music; and Princeton University.

Her music and arrangements are published by G. Schirmer, Hal Leonard, and Schott and have been performed by the New York Pops, the Boston Pops, and Houston, National, and Toronto Symphonies.

February 1, 2019

ONE PARAGRAPH BIO

Music director Judith Clurman is an Emmy and Grammy-nominated conductor, and educator. She also is the musical director for Essential Voices USA, The Symphony Singers and is on the faculty of the Manhattan School of Music. She has conducted performances as diverse as the Österreich Festival Orchestra and Chorus at the Mozarteum Grosser Saal, Salzburg, and the nationally televised "Music of the Spirit" (NBC and PBS) ; as music director of the Singing Tree Float in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade (2017-); as conductor of the nationally televised July 4th Macy's Fireworks Spectacular (2015); and has worked with many of the world's finest symphonies (New York Philharmonic, Boston Symphony Orchestra, Orchestra of St Luke's). Ms. Clurman has commissioned new works by over sixty American composers, some of which can be heard on her numerous CDs on the Sono Luminus, New World Labels, and EVUSA Recording labels. She led the world premieres of a newly-discovered canon text by Mozart for Lincoln Center's Mozart Bicentennial, and a Leonard Bernstein arrangement of George Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue at Harvard's Leonard Bernstein: Boston to Broadway Festival. She received an Emmy nomination for her work as Associate Music Director for Sesame Street. As an educator, she served as Director of Choral Activities at The Juilliard School from 1989-2007, has been a visiting artist/teacher at University of Cambridge, Harvard University, Curtis Institute of Music, Princeton University, the Janacek Academy, and Israel's Zimriya Festival at Hebrew University, and was faculty at the National Endowment for the Arts/Columbia University Institute of Classical Music. She edits choral editions for G. Schirmer, Schott and Hal Leonard and she is a member of ASCAP, ASCAP's Special Classification Committee, and the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences. Her music and arrangements are published by G. Schirmer, Hal Leonard, and Schott and have been performed by the New York Pops, the Boston Pops, and Houston, National, and Toronto Symphonies.

February 1, 2019